Old Business: DuMond Special Use Permit Application

Todd DuMond has submitted to the Town a tentative Special Use Permit Application to build a soybean processing facility. No pertinent documents requested during the January meeting were submitted with the application. Jamie informed the Board that after he saw the paperwork submitted with the application, he sent Don Bowen and Don Oltz an email. The email explained that the Town needed all the documentation as per Article 15, Site Plan Review, in the zoning laws. In addition, Don Bowen informed the Board that Christina Brooks, the Solutions Manager for DuMond Farms, is currently working on finishing up the documentation to support the application and intends to have it completed by March 19, 2018.

Old Business: Newsletter information

The Board decided that they would like to introduce the new members as well as tell a little bit about what they do for the Town. Their chief goal is to aid Fleming residents in the projects they propose, ensuring that transitions between the necessary steps flows smoothly. In addition, they aim to make all residents aware of zoning laws. Above all, they seek to serve the best interest for both the Town of Fleming and all its inhabitants. Our new members, Terry Lang, John Baker, Sue Sciortino - Alternate, Felicia Sciortino-Secretary, join Craig Coleman, Robert Faynor and Jamie Moore. The Planning Board usually meet the first Monday of the month at 6:30pm. Meetings can be found on the Town's website calendar.

The next meeting is set for April 2, 2018 at 6:30 PM. Since there was no additional business put before the Board, Bob made a motion to adjourn and Craig seconded it, unanimously accepted.

Respectfully submitted,
Felicia Sciortino, Secretary
Jamie Moore, Chairman
